Bio

Josh Strauss's photography has been exhibited both Nationally and Internationally. His work has been exhibited at The Open Museum in Israel, solo shows around New York in the last few years, and two solo shows in Gallerie III in Barmstedt, Germany.

His work on Beduin people in the Sinai desert from 2005 was exhibited in New York at the Makor gallery.

In 2006 Strauss documented artists in their studios around Williamsburg, Brooklyn and is now working on a new body of work in which he captures a more subtle expression of Man's imprint on nature- work which will be exhibited in Germany in September 08.

Strauss has also worked as a freelance photographer for the past 10 years. Most recently, he photographed for UNICEF, documenting daily life in the war torn town of Sderot, near the Gaza strip in Israel.

Josh studied Photography at the School of Creative Photography in Israel and moved to New York in 1998, where he lives and works today.
